CITIZEN BODIES TO AID RELIEF

General Appeal for Needy Guardsmen to Be Made by Societies.

All the various citizens' organizations of Washington, will be personally appealed to for assistance in the alleviation of distress in Guardsmen's families, as a result of a meeting held yesterday. The meeting was called to order by John D. O'Connell, president of the Citizens' Relief Committee, and the various organizations of the city were present. It was definitely decided that each society do its part in aiding in the relief work. This means that practically every citizen will be pledged to assist in the matter.

Mrs. Alice I. Stuart, of the Relief Society reports that there are 150 cases pending action. Donations were received yesterday from many sources. Among them was one donation from "An Active Patriot" and another from a person who signed the initials "J. B." These contributions, says Mrs. Stuart, are being divided as equitably as possible among the needy families of the District Guardsmen. Mrs. Stuart also announces that seven men have been honorably discharged by the War Department and allowed to return to their families.

Efforts are also being furthered to turn the refund from the G. A. R. encampment funds over to the Guard Relief Association to be disposed of as deemed advisable. Chairman Samuel J. Prescott has also called a meeting of the Board of Trade committee in charge of the matter for noon today. The raising of funds for the relief of families of District Guardsmen will mark the main topic of discussion.

DELAYS ACTION ON BLACKLIST

Administration to Await Reply to Protest Before Considering Reprisals.

Administration officials said yesterday that no action would be taken by this government toward reprisals against the British blacklist of American firms and individuals until England replies to the protest lodged with the London foreign office by this government.

It was asserted that several forms of reprisal have been considered informally. There is keen interest in Congress in the blacklist situation.

The latest increase in the American list were said by some officials to indicate Great Britain's determination to go as far in her aggressive policies against America's foreign trade as the United States.

It is believed by some officials that recent assurances given to this government by the British Ambassador upon instructions from London that the operation of the blacklist will not interfere with domestic trade will not remove from any person the fear that to carry on trade with blacklisted firms will cause him to be proscribed by Great Britain.

It is thought that the moral intimidation conveyed in the blacklist will serve in place of express threats to prevent even domestic trading with "outlawed" firms.
